Rubin Thomlinson LLP

Employment Lawyer, 3-7 Years

Toronto

Our client, Rubin Thomlinson LLP, is a leading employment law boutique in downtown Toronto. Working closely with both employers and employees, the firm's commitment to providing strategic, practical and innovative legal solutions to challenging workplace issues has earned them the trust and loyalty of their many valued clients, as well as a sterling reputation among other lawyers. The firm's core services include employment law advice and support, workplace investigations and workplace investigation training.

As a result of a thriving practice, the firm is seeking an associate with 3 to 7 years of employment law experience gained at a top tier full-service firm or employment boutique. The role would involve providing counsel to employers and employees on all areas of employment law, including employment contracts, wrongful dismissals, workplace policies, employment standards and human rights in the workplace. Experience in and comfort with litigious matters is a definite asset. This is an exceptional opportunity for a junior lawyer seeking a high end practice and exceptional training or the up-and-coming employment lawyer who wants to move away from the bureaucracy of a larger firm or boutique and accelerate his or her skill development and profile as an expert in his or her own right. This unique opportunity provides exceptional opportunities for career growth and advancement, a collegial work environment and a competitive compensation package.

This is an exclusive search. If you would like to discuss this opportunity or your career options in general, please contact:
